The Heritage of World Civilizations
Albert M. Craig, William A. Graham, Donald Kagan, Steven Ozment, and Frank M. Turner

Help students understand the past in a global perspective. Written by leading scholars in their respective fields, THE HERITAGE OF WORLD CIVILIZATIONS offers compelling and thorough coverage of the unique heritage of Asian, African, Middle Eastern, European and American civilizations while highlighting the role of the world’s great religious and philosophical traditions. This comprehensive yet accessible survey of world history has been extensively revised to provide better global and comparative perspectives on the events and processes that have shaped our increasingly interdependent world.

New and Hallmark Features

New to the Fifth Edition

- Read, View, See, Watch, Hear, Study, and Review icons integrated throughout the text connect resources on MyHistoryLab to specific topics within the chapters. The icons are not exhaustive—many more resources are available than those highlighted in the book—but they draw attention to some of the most high-interest resources available on MyHistoryLab.

- MyHistoryLab Connections sections, at the end of each chapter, provide a list of the references within the chapter and additional documents, maps, videos or other resources that relate to the content of the chapter.

- A Closer Look feature in each chapter provides in-depth commentary on visual sources in world history, teaching students to view photos, paintings and other illustrations as historical documents. Each concludes with questions that encourage students to focus on important issues raised within the feature.

- Global Perspective sections at the beginning of each chapter succinctly place the regions and topics that are to be discussed in a wider, global framework.
Hallmark Features

- Build your own Pearson Custom text. For enrollments of at least 25, create your own textbook by combining chapters from best-selling Pearson textbooks and/or reading selections in the sequence you want. To begin building your custom text, visit www.pearsoncustomlibrary.com. You may also work with a dedicated Pearson Custom editor to create your ideal text—publishing your own original content or mixing and matching Pearson content. Contact your Pearson Publisher’s Representative to get started.

- A wealth of pedagogical features—including Focus Questions, Overview Tables, Chronologies, Quick Reviews, Key Terms, Interactive Maps, Visual Analysis Questions, Chapter Summaries, and Chapter Review Questions—provide students with an effective framework for understanding the topics covered.

- Religions of the World essays highlight the role of five major religions—Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Christianity, and Islam—in world history, helping students make connections between the study of the world’s civilizations with some of the basic belief systems of the people within them.

- Documents from sacred books, poems, philosophical tracts, political manifestos, letters and travel accounts expose students to the raw materials of history and provide intimate contact with peoples of the past. Questions accompanying the source documents direct students to important, thought-provoking issues and help them relate the documents to the main narrative.
We believe in learning. That’s why the new MyHistoryLab combines proven learning applications with powerful assessment to engage students, assess their learning, and help them succeed.

- Closer Look tours walk students through a variety of key primary sources in detail, helping them to uncover their meaning and understand their context.

- A History Bookshelf enables students to read, download, or print up to 100 of the most commonly assigned history works like Thomas Paine’s Common Sense, Homer’s The Iliad, and Machiavelli’s The Prince.

- The Pearson eText lets students access their textbook anytime, anywhere, and any way they want, including listening online.

With assessment tied to many of the resources found on MyHistoryLab, students get immediate feedback, and instructors can see what their students know with just a few clicks. Instructors can also personalize MyHistoryLab to meet the needs of their students. MyHistoryLab—Believe in learning.

What instructors are saying...

“...well-written, civilizations-focused text that is accessible to students without talking down to them.”
—WAYNE ACKERSON, Salisbury University

“The Global Perspective feature is superb. It is an excellent way to put themes into a global context, which brings significance to the topics of study.”
—HEATHER BARRY, St. Joseph’s College

“...a very good balance between topical, thematic, and chronological approaches. All three are necessary for students to derive the maximum value from the text.”
—DR. ANTHONY R. SANTORO, Christopher Newport University

“The greatest challenge my students usually face is how to deal with thematic and more complex ideas on a wide geographic and chronological range. This book helps that.”
—KRISTEN POST WALTON, Salisbury University
